Spring 2021

Update on Museum and Lectures

The museum is back open for tours and research Wednesdays and Thursdays 10-6. Due to the ongoing pandemic, we cannot have indoor lectures at the museum quite yet. We are working hard to schedule monthly outdoor talks and lectures that we can do safely on the lawn next to the museum. We are also going to be doing a monthly walking tour focusing on different areas of Wayne, and it's a safe way to be out and about. In the meantime we will be trying to make short history videos and posting them online, through email, facebook and Youtube. Stay tuned for the announcement of upcoming outdoor lectures in March.

We need Volunteers!

-If you have an interest in history and a few extra hours on a Wednesday or Thursday, consider volunteering at the museum. We need help with a wide range of tasks and can surely find something you're interested in.

New Clubs and Organizations section

-Stop into the museum and check out our new Clubs and Organizations of Wayne section. Learn about over 170 years of service org history, veteran groups and people trying to make the community a better place to live and work. We will continually update and change the exhibit with new material.

Stay tuned for future events!
